

Aliens Take Over

By Georgi

Aliens! Have you ever seen an alien before? I bet not because they look exactly like humans. There is only one way to distinguish humans from aliens and that is to cut in the alien's body. There will be insects and slugs in the body.

One horrible rainy Sunday, the aliens came in humongous mother ships. The mother ships were all over the world. The ships were huge like a mile long. They look like really big pieces of aluminum in the sky.

"What is this," someone said. Guess what like usual people are running away and screaming. A really bright light appeared and someone's face appeared. It was the alien's leader. He wants to meet with Earths supreme pizzas. I mean leaders.

The next week the aliens had their meeting with Earths supreme leaders. Here is the conversation the humans had with the aliens. "We are at peace for now. We would like to show you where we live, our technology and our cities," the aliens insisted.

The humans responded, "Very well then we are at peace."

After that the aliens let the humans learn where they lived, their technology, and their cities. Oh No! The aliens are getting hungry are they feed on human flesh.

The war starts WHEN the aliens are hungry and they feed on human flesh that's why they let the humans know everything so they can capture them and eat them. The humans are fighting for their lives but it's no use.

Two Weeks Later...

Over 50 million people were killed or eaten. It was a horrible sight to watch people get eaten by the alien.

"Well that's that," replied our hero.

The heroes name is Georgi Solar.

"No, no!" yelled Georgi because his assistant died before his very eyes.

1 Week Later...

All the houses, buildings and stuff like that were destroyed. The survivors (humans) don't know what to do so they turn to their hero their leader but. He doesn't know what to do either. The survivors just say they should give up but Georgi says no.

1 Week Later Again...

Almost the whole human race is gone and only like 1,000 people are still alive.

“Georgi, you should just surrender,” Glenn in Georgi’s crew replied.

“Man when is this going to be over!” yelled Georgi.

“When just when,” followed Ben.

It is over. The alien’s won thank you all for reading my story... What? Wait it’s not over. Georgi is just injured, not dead! Sorry about that. Ha, ha. Okay now the alien’s left the building Georgi and his crew were in.

“What is that? It looks like a fire, it is a fire!” Georgi cried.

Guess what? The aliens lit up the gasoline they left on the floor with a match.

“Quick, how should I escape,” thought Georgi.

Booom!

The building collapsed. It pilled all on Georgi but he’s still alive.

“Now where are the aliens,” thought Georgi.

Georgi got up and started looking around but everything he saw was ashes and dust. He started walking. Then in about 6 hours he has went so far that he just came back to the usual spot, the collapsed building. He went north, south, east, and even west but he ended up in the same place like always.

It was the next morning and he was still walking around like he’s crazy, but wasn’t. Five hours passed and now, finally he lies down and turned around and started sleeping. He figured out he was tired in about 11 hours. That next afternoon he woke up and started walking northeast, northwest, southeast, and southwest when, boom he found something just like that. It only took him eighteen hours to find out to go southwest. That was the right direction to go. He should of gone southwest first.

Georgi found a tank with no alien's in the tank but there were weapons. The weapons Georgi found in the tank were grenades, Ak-47's, shotguns, mini pistols, pistols, and M -16's.

"There they are," said Georgi in a sneaky voice.

Then Georgi takes a grenade in stuffs it in one of the alien's throat. In a matter of seconds the alien explodes and slugs flying all over the place.

"An alien headquarters straight ahead," a voice in the shadows commented.

"Who are you?" asked Georgi.

"I am someone you know very well,"

"Bob!" Georgi exclaimed.

"NO I am not Bob, I am Mariano," Mariano inquired.

"Mariano, I thought you were dead," Georgi replied.

"No I didn't get killed," replied Mariano.

"Okay, see you later or when you're dead," Georgi commented.

"Don't you have something to say?" Mariano questioned.

"No, no I don't," Georgi replied.

“Ok, bye,” Mariano commented.

Now Georgi went five or so miles without food. Then he sees something that catches his eyes a, a Burger King. He goes in and takes 100 dollars out of his pockets and gives it to the clerk. He orders 99 hamburgers and a medium soda.

10 Minutes Later

He already dissolved 99 hamburgers and a medium soda even the straw and cup. Then he walks out and gets his weapons and he starts walking. Man that guy was hungry.

He made it somewhere, somewhere that smells like a skunk in a poop rally. And there is an alien. He takes his M-16 and starts shooting the alien. Then there come more aliens and more aliens. But don't you worry Georgi can take a bunch of hippy aliens. He takes a grenade throws it and the aliens start flying. They land in the toilets. A dog starts flying it's the amazing Gio dog. Then Mariano comes and takes an Ak-47 and starts shooting the aliens to make sure they are dead.

“What are you doing here?” questioned Georgi.

Mariano replied, “Well to help. Why not help you?”

“Ok, you can help me. Just don't make Gio dog angry or he will eat your head,” said Georgi.

“Deal!” yelled Mariano.

After an hour Georgi, Mariano, and Gio dog got hungry. So they go find the supreme pizzas and eat 100 of the pizzas. I almost forgot and they drank all the XXXXXL Coke-Colas. So they go back to saving the world. Then all of the sudden these guys start shooting Georgi, Mariano, and even Gio dog. So Gio dog goes and bites their heads of. Gio dog is cannibal. And eats them all in one bite. I don't believe that a flying dog could eat people's heads.

“Hey look a survivor,” Georgi pointed out.

The survivor comes closer, and closer, and closer then he asks,

“Who are you?” the survivor questioned.

“I am Georgi this is Mariano and that dog is Gio dog,” Georgi replied. “Who are you?”

“I am Nick, Nick White,” replied Nick.

So Nick takes an M-16 and starts walking with you know French fries, I mean Georgi.

Well it turns out they are on the wrong planet they are on planet BOB. They have to go to planet What's Up. So Gio dog expands and flies them to planet What's Up.

So they have to go find the leader of the aliens. But there are like 1,000 guards they have to kill before the alien's leader.

5 Hours Later

Not only did they kill all the alien guards but they even killed the commander of the guards and his name is Ryan the alien. So now they cross the bridge of doom if you fall you don't die because it's three feet down. So they cross the bridge.

"Well, well look who it is Georgi and his crew. I have been expecting you," the alien commented.

So Georgi starts fighting the alien. So do Nick and Mariano. I almost forgot even Gio dog starts fighting too. After a little while Georgi throws a grenade and the alien starts flying into space and then a paper airplane flies him back.
