

Mother Ship Chaos

"Abduction"

By Nathan

"Haven't you ever wondered what's out there?" asked Collin.

"No, of course not Collin. I have enough to worry about. You get straight A's while I at least need C's," explained Butch.

"Well at least you are respected and strong enough to lift up a teacher while I only get pushed around because I'm smart but weak," Collin complained

"Yeah, I guess so," agreed Butch.

"And besides you're the quarterback of the college football team! Well at least I don't get bullied because you're my friend," reminded Collin.

"Yeah I guess so," said Butch. "But remember Collin I at least need to be in the C's rank to stay in the team."

"Yeah but at least we got the blood of pranksters!" Collin remarked.

"Well we should go home now its 10:39," Collin said.

"Bye" they both said.

(Meanwhile in space)

"Ah, Earth. We finally made it. Let's see how the humanssss have developed," the alien commander said with his slithery voice.

"Calling all unitssss. I repeat all unitssss. Activate all shipsss and portable disco ballssss. when you hit earth have a great big party!" the alien shouter reported.

"Ssssend Zengoli in as commander," the alien commander demanded.

"You got it bossss," the alien shouter stated.

[Currently at the alien scout party]

“Wee-nah,” alien scout 5 shouted.

“Its yeee-hah not weeee-nah,” alien scout 87 said. “And besides there’s no use of that here this is not the wild west.”

“ugh, why do you always pick on me, I have a transport gun still you know,” alien scout 5 threatened.

“Oh really I thought it was a rattle Ha-ha-aa-aaaa-aachooooo.” alien scout 87 sneezed.

“That’s it I’m shootin’,” alien scout 5 shouted while loading.

“STOP!” Alien scout chief boomed. “There’s been enough fighting I’m sending you out to earth so gear up and get in your pods this instant!”

“Get in your pods this instant,” alien scout 87 mimicked in a squeaky tone.

Blzzzzrt. The alien teliporter zapped alien scout 87.

“Any one else?” alien scout chief yelled

“Uhhhh, no I don’t think so,” all alien scouts said together.

“Brrreeeeep-breeeeeeeeep,” the assignment giver repeated.

“We’ve gotten a new assignment, capture a human,” The alien chief said darkly.

“Sir yes sir,” The scouts yelled.

(Later at NASA space station)

“We need to investigate these strange disappearances it probably has to do with alien activity,” the NASA commander boomed

“We are disrupting the current ship flight sir,” a worker announced.

“Good, good tell them they’ve been rescued,” the NASA commander said.

(7 minutes later)

“Umm, Houston we have a problem.” the astronaut announced.

“If it’s that you’ve been rescued then there’s nothing wrong,”

“Oh, ok astronaut 67 out,” The astronaut confirmed.

“So, what they say?” Astronaut 58 asked.

"They said there's nothing wrong," astronaut 67 stated.

"Oh, so there's nothing wrong with being recouced to the SUN!" astronaut 58 yelled.

"Bye I had a good time living," astronaut 67 said.

"Me too bye," the astronaut cried.

(After seven days)

"Uhg, Collin we've searched for a week and there's nothing not even a clue of were Butch is," Steve whined.

"Well search harder he's got to be somewhere but where?" Collin announced.

"Ya know I think I liked it better when I was the leader." Steven stated.

"Well ya know I like it better with me as the leader Because I don't give up like you do," Collin replied.

"Hey what? That blue beam over there?" Steven asked.

"I don't know let's check it out," Collin answered.

(like seven maybe even 15 hours later due to annoyances from the writer's editor)

"There was no use coming here Collin there's just some scraps of metal nothing else." Steven complained.

"Hey I feel tingly whoa ooooooohhhhhhhhhhhhhhh." Collin stated.

"Whaaaaaaaaaaaaah I want my mommy whaaaaaaaaaaaaah." Steven cried.

"I'm so tired haaaaaw," Collin said sleepily.

"No Collin don't sleep were flying what's going on? Haaaaaw I'm also tired." Steven yawned.

(Later in the planet Zemu)

"Ha ha ha, we finally have not one but two humans to study start at once we must find their weaknesssssss their sssstrengthss and abilatysss," the alien professor said cheerfully.

"Sir, are we going to destroy and wage war against this planet?" an alien soldier asked.

“Yes but you will not be in charge Kamflit will,” the alien professor responded.

“Grrrrrrr, I’m never in charge never ever ever!” the solder growled.

“Security! Send commander Hotdog and Big red here.” The alien professor called.

“STOP this is squadron terrible to eat together and your going in the vortex.” Commander Hotdog and Big red yelled.

“NEVER! Ahhhhhhhh I’m dizzy blah,” the rouge solder barfed out pizza, dead mice, a license and, a man.

“Ahhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh where am I? I want my mommy waaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaah!” the man screamed.

Then commander Hotdog pulled out a piece of paper and said.

“Awesome, we lead at the criminal catchings by a-thousand points now,” Hotdog said.

“Another great job by Hotdog and Big red mutated snacks from earth!” the commanders said over the mike.

(Back on earth in NASA)

“This is mutiny why are some of our troops helping the alien menace!” the NASA commander boomed to the general.

“Sir,” the general said.

“Sir, sir oh please help me sir, no sirs at all we’re going to have to end the story and research why they’re betraying us,” the NASA space commander suggested.

“Very well sir but first let the kids see were Collin and Steven were taken,” the general said.

“Fine,” the NASA commander rudely responded.

(Wherever Collin and Steve were taken)

“Uhg great just great now we are trapped in a cell and we have to end the book with a nutty ending,” Collin said.

“That’s all folks.” Donald duck said.

“Donald duck what’s he doing here?” Collin asked.

“Hey Donald skedaddle this is our book this is not a comedy or Children’s book even though people are laughing because you showed up. These people want a good story not strange cartoon characters that were drawn so if a kid was reading this now that they would want to see a picture of you so like I said skedaddle.” Steven yelled at Donald duck.

“Fine then see ya,” Donald said.

“Finally” Collin said. “He is gone now we need to plan our escape...”